THE SPACE

Hide away like outlaws in this self-contained bunkhouse and feel immediately restful in the charmingly rustic and atmospheric interior. This bolthole was purpose-built by the owners and is a faithful recreation of a shack from the Old West - with a Cornish twist, of course. Everywhere you look, there are quirky curiosities and carefully curated trinkets: from ethically sourced taxidermy to one-off art pieces. There is a Smart TV and Wi-Fi so, if you want to, you can keep up with what's going on in the real world while you're hiding out like Bonnie and Clyde in your secluded getaway.

This unique homestay is a little slice of heaven that offers an experience like no other. Spend lazy afternoons lounging in rocking chairs on the private porch (spittoon included), or melting away your woes in the outdoor hot tub. As the day draws to a close, bask in the pinky-orange hues of glorious Cornish sunsets in your private orchard before curling up with your beau on the luxurious leather sofa in the flickering light of the imposing fireplace. Unwind in the large power-shower or roll-top bath, with fluffy cotton towels and luxury Duck Island toiletries. Then finally, retire to the quaint and cosy bedroom, equipped with ceiling fan and French doors that open onto the porch.

THE LOCATION

Our little piece of paradise is set in the secluded rolling hills of the Cornish countryside just two miles inland. Sheltered by two-hundred-year-old oak trees, our corner of Cornwall is abundant with wildlife and breath-taking views of surrounding pastures – and on clear days you can even look down the lush green valley and out onto the glistening Atlantic ocean.

Still House is just outside the village of Marhamchurch, close to the coastal town of Bude – and it's the perfect base for a genuine Cornish experience. You'll be spoilt for choice with places to wine and dine; from bistros and fine dining to micro-pubs and bars.

Experienced surf-lovers or beginner water-babies will love staying here as Widemouth Bay and a multitude of other sandy beaches are just a few miles away. There's so much to explore with National Trust wonders and English Heritage marvels like Rocky Valley and Tintagel Castle littering the coastline just a stones-throw away.

Our local pub and village shop is within walking distance and is a stunning walk to do on sunny days. There is a bus stop in the village with occasional buses into Bude, but we generally recommend getting around by car – and there is ample space for parking here too.

Still House is totally private and guests have sole access to all areas and private use of the porch, orchard and outdoor bath. However, our home is really close by, so there is always someone around to help if you need something.

We have a small Charcuterie studio opposite on our property where we produce our own artisan pork products such as sausages and chorizo, which is all available to buy.
