THE SPACE

Welcome to The Wishbone. This private loft for two is a restored 19th Century coach house, boasting a vaulted ceilings with beautifully aged original wishbone beams. Here, you'll feel immediately restful in the inviting, open-plan (yet cosy) interior.

This hygge-inspired homestay is a little slice of heaven. Spend lazy afternoons lounging in the private courtyard, eating from the BBQ and bubbling away your troubles in the two-person hot tub (that's for your sole use). As the day draws to a close, bask in the pinky-orange hues of glorious Cornish sunsets on the purpose-built Sun Downer deck.

Create those special evening meals in the free-standing kitchen before curling up on the sofa in the flickering, ambient light of the wood burner. Unwind in the ensuite shower room using the modern power-shower, deluxe Duck Island products and heated, fluffy, Egyptian-cotton towels. Then finally, go and have some cosy moments in the peaceful living space and retire to the dreamy bedroom, and shut out the rest of the world before getting lost in a sea of luxury bedding.

THE LOCATION

Our little piece of paradise is set in the secluded rolling hills of the Cornish countryside just two miles inland. Sheltered by two-hundred-year-old oak trees, our corner of Cornwall is abundant with wildlife and breath-taking views of surrounding pastures – and on clear days you can even look down the lush green valley and out onto the glistening Atlantic ocean.

The Wishbone is just outside the village of Marhamchurch, close to the coastal town of Bude – and it's the perfect base for a genuine Cornish experience. You'll be spoilt for choice with places to wine and dine; from bistros and fine dining to micro-pubs and bars.

Experienced surf-lovers or beginner water-babies will love staying here as Widemouth Bay and a multitude of other sandy beaches are just a few miles away. There's so much to explore with National Trust wonders and English Heritage marvels like Rocky Valley and Tintagel Castle littering the coastline just a stones-throw away.

Our local pub and village shop is within walking distance and is a stunning walk to do on sunny days. There is a bus stop in the village with occasional buses into Bude, but we generally recommend getting around by car – and there is ample space for parking here too.

The Wishbone is totally private and guests have sole access to all areas and private use of the hot tub and courtyard. However, our home is only next door, so there is always someone around to help if you need something.

We have a small Charcuterie studio beneath The Wishbone where we produce our own artisan pork products such as sausages and chorizo, which is all available to buy.
